NERD FORCE SIGNS 13 NEW LAS VEGAS TERRITORIES

Nerd Force® Franchise Company ('NFFC'), the wholly owned subsidiary of Nexus Management, is pleased to announce the signing of 13 new franchise territories in Las Vegas and the Henderson cities of Clark County, Nevada. This follows on from the previous official announcement in April 2009 of the launch of Nerd Force® in Mississippi and the recent start of Nerd Force® in Canada, bringing the total number of franchise territories sold to in excess of 180 (25 of which are currently active). Having begun with one franchise territory in July 2008, the Board believes Nerd Force® is one of the fastest growing IT franchise models of its kind.

Jean Weckhorst, Assistant Financial Controller for MGM Las Vegas, who has over 20 years experience managing the accounts of casinos, and Peter Weckhorst, Sales and Marketing Executive for Marriott Group, are the new franchisees.

The Weckhorst family started a HobbyTown USA franchise in Las Vegas in 1991 - which became the leading Group store for over a decade, gross sales in its second year exceeded $1 million, shattering previous sales records by over 100% and setting the standard for all HobbyTown franchises.

Jean and Peter Weckhorst, the new franchisees, are long time Las Vegas residents and Peter commented: "I have been passionate about computers every since I took my first programming course in 1980. Jean and I believe that this is an opportunity which we cannot possibly pass up - it is the perfect time to be developing a managed services offering for small businesses and Nerd Force® is a great brand with which to do it."

Boris Adlam, Nerd Force® President, commented: "We are very excited to welcome our new franchisees Peter and Jean. Together they form a dream team - Jean, with her financial controller expertise, and Peter, with his sales and marketing background, are the perfect combination to start a franchise in such an important city as Las Vegas. On top of that, a passion for computers which stretches back almost 30 years, makes them very well suited to this business - this bodes well for the development of Nerd Force® across Nevada."
